A team full of talent, diverse Skill set, ideas & best solution to problems

I have been dealing with webnexs for my (undisclosed) based Web platform. Initially, I found it difficult to get along with the team, getting to understand and settle the way we both would operate(because I was sitting 2500KMs away from them). But gradually, it was smoother for me and it's good with their team. David and Kavi were good enough to do all the changes, as I required. Mahesh was there to discuss all the issues in every detail related to my website. This company is good and better in communication and they are trying best to get me satisfied.
